3rd Party Libraries/ Assets

LibGDX [1]

LibGDX is licensed under the Apache 2.0 Licence [2]. This licence is suitable for our game as it is open source which allows commercial use, meaning there will be no licensing issues with our game.

LWJGL [3] (Used to launch LibGDX)

LWJGL is licensed under BSD-3 [4]. This licence is suitable for our project as it is an open source licence that allows commercial use and distribution of a copy of LWJGL in the source code for the game.

Tile Assets

All tiles used in the game map were created from scratch by the previous group, so there are no licensing concerns to consider that are relevant to their use within the project.

Building Assets

Some building assets are sourced from Magipik which has their own Simplicity Licence [5]. This licence does not require attribution and allows commercial use if the asset is part of a larger project. This licence is therefore suitable for use in a small game like UniSim.

Music and Sound Effects

Background music used, music by Vlad Krotov from Pixabay, thanks to moodmode, licence:

<https://pixabay.com/service/license-summary/> [6]. Sound effect used, by Pixabay licence:

<https://pixabay.com/service/license-summary/> [6]. Full licence for both:

<https://pixabay.com/service/terms/> [7]. We have added these sounds to make the game more enjoyable, the licence is very suitable for this project as it is free and no need to attribute the author. We are not selling the project or using it for commercial purposes, we are not misleading anyone or using the content as part of a trademark.
